VOLUME 61, ISSUE 8

AUG 2019

Meeting Minutes July 13, 2019

32 attendees

Our president, Dave Adams, opened the meeting by saying the event of the month was him tripping over the bathroom scale, in his bathroom and getting his foot caught under the edge of the bathtub and breaking his ankle and his leg! On a positive note, Dave went on to say, he is amazed how people were so caring, running to get the door for him, and even offering to buy him a drink! It's been fun for him on that level.

Dave then went on to congratulate, Jean Riley, for the Gold Award she received for our newsletter. A big round of applause rang out throughout the room. Also, Dave, congratulated Tony and Kathy, who took Third Place Touring at the Flagstaff Convention this year. Next year's convention will be in Sarasota, Florida.

We also talked about Retro cars being included in CTCL. Gil said Retro cars are full members and the difference isn't very much. The issue is Retro cars don't get judged, and the Retro's don't get written up in CTCL or get featured in pictures, as yet, but they are full members. So, Dave, stressed again, that everyone in our club should join CTCL. Dave thanked Gil for the nice article he wrote in the Early Bird magazine on windshield wipers, because a lot of people want to convert. Next on the agenda was Jean and Guy talking about our 2020 calendars. The club has decided to let the whole country submit pictures of their cars in their environments. The ad placed in our Early Bird magazine was too small and we have only one car submission so far. It was decided and voted on to put a half page ad in the Early Bird magazine for about $250-$300.

Guy has an interesting picture on our BATOC website (batoc.org) where he is asking for your best picture of your car. It is hilarious, be sure to check our club website before it disappears!

Club activities were led by Mary Cummings.

They read about our August trip to Hearst Castle in our newsletter. The Central Coast Club is located in San Luis Obispo. Dave said we should put more energy in participation with other clubs wherever we are going, and vice versa. We should position ourselves as to being very open to inner club participation.

Alameda Car Show, October 12

November needs an event planner.

December 8- Christmas Holiday Party Janet, event planner

For those who host events/ outings, we all decided will get a tangible item. It would be more compelling with a physical item. Janet has a daughter-in-law, that etched glass and can put our logo on glasses. Her business is called Classy Glassy, and she can make any amount we choose. We are going to investigate this further.

Last item of business is the news that Don Johnson over at Thunderbird Headquarters has passed away. Our president, Dave, strongly recommends that we support Thunderbird Headquarters, send our condolences, and let them know we will continue to buy our parts from them.

Our president, Dave Adams adjourned the meeting at 11:30AM

Respectfully submitted by Marianne Grech, Secretary

PRES SAYS

OK, HOW ABOUT A “QUICKIE” – WORDS WE’D ALL LIKE TO HEAR

So...there are a million things I could talk about in MY life, but that is NOT what you are looking for in a President’s Message. And in that regard, I don’t have a lot to report. But here’s what I do have.

If you missed our last meeting, Congratulations go to Jean for taking yet another “Gold Award” from CTCI for our BATOC newsletter. This is her first time winning, after the bar was set high by previous editor Bob Dixon. GREAT JOB JEAN.

Also, on the JEAN front, she and Bud have done an amazing job of organizing the Hearst Castle trip this month on Aug 23rd, 24th. This will be an amazing trip that includes connecting with the Central Coast T-Bird club for a little “Quickie” on the coast. As we talked about at last month’s meeting, we will be doing this (co-mingling with neighboring clubs) more and more and think this will make for great fun on our outings. Again, great job Bud & Jean.

Congratulations are also in order for Mark Goldenberg for taking the Danville Fire Department’s “Hottest Car Award” at the first Hot Summer Sunday’s show in Danville on the 21st. I guess the fire department just couldn’t resist a Fire Engine Red car. We had a great turn out with I think 12 or 14 cars – in fact more than we or the show anticipated – and we actually ran out of parking in the space allocated to us. And even though we were not in our usual spot, we had a great spot next to the Veteran’s Center under a very nice group of trees. Perfect setting for the afternoon. The next show is August 18th and we are looking for as many cars as we can get. We will have the same great spot and look forward to seeing everyone there. Please let me know if you can be there so I can make sure we have plenty of parking.

And finally, we are getting down to the wire if you want to sign up for Ironstone on September 28th. We say this every year, but if you have not done this weekend event in the past, you owe it to yourself to take part. It is a fabulous weekend and is probably the most beautiful car show setting you could ask for. A beautiful, fun, unique, fabulous weekend with great friends and great cars. How great is that. Jump in and join the party around the hotel pool.

So there's your quickie and I promise not to tell. Have a great month and hopefully when I see you next, I will be fully mobile and moving under my own power.

See Ya All Soon,
Dave

Technical Tidbits

Here is another article from Technical Tips From Thunderbird Land by Robert DePaola.

Temperature Gauge Sending Unit By Joel Greenberg

The temperature gauge for the 1955-1957 Thunderbird is located on the driver's side portion of the engine near the firewall. It is screwed into the top rear portion of the left side cylinder head. The sending unit is almost directly below the mounting bracket for the carburetor linkage. It looks similar to a spark plug with one wire attached to it and is clearly visible and easily accessible. The sending unit functions much like a thermometer. It does this by moving the needle on your temperature gauge as your car's coolant temperature rises. For those of you out there with "stuck" temperature gauges, this tip is for you. To test your temperature gauge, simply disconnect the wire attached to the temperature gauge sending unit and touch it to any good ground. Your dash gauge needle should move. If it does, your temperature gauge is functioning properly and the problem is probably a faulty sending unit. If the gauge does not move at all then the problem is either a loose or cracked wire and/or a bad temperature gauge.

To remove a faulty sending unit it will be necessary to drain enough antifreeze out of the cooling system to leave your radiator about one-half full. This will lower the coolant level to a point lower than the sending unit. With enough anti-freeze drained from the system, you can safely remove the sending unit from the cylinder head without having anti-freeze leak all over your detailed engine compartment. Depending on what year Thunderbird you have, you will need a box wrench size 5/8" to 3/4" to unscrew the sending unit.

Technical Tidbits con't

When installing the new sending unit, use Teflon tape to help prevent any coolant leaks. With the engine running, pour the coolant back into the radiator very slowly. Don't pour all the coolant back in at once. Try to divide the amount you need to refill the radiator into four or five fillings. Allow a few minutes in between fillings to make sure the thermostat has opened and your coolant is circulating.. Make sure your heater is turned to the "on" position. The blower does not need to be engaged, but the heater valve does need to be opened. By turning the heat "on" and pouring the anti-freeze back into the radiator very slowly, you will avoid developing any air pockets which may prevent your cooling system from functioning properly. Once the engine has heated up, check to see if your gauge is working. You should now be set to enjoy the summer: the sun, warm air, road construction, traffic jams, and temperature gauges warning you of impending disaster.

Hot Danville Sundays Car Show

The Danville Hot Summer Sunday Car Show turned back the Hands Of Time, as The Horseless Carriage Club of America made a Special appearance on July 21st. These special historical vehicles were a caravan of Pre 1916 treasures making an entrance on Prospect Street in Downtown Danville. Of course our Thunderbirds were well represented as well. Congratulations to Mark Goldenberg, who won the Danville Fire Department award for the Hottest Car. We had a lovely day.
